Did you know?

Did you know that a cordial factory was situated at the rear of the present supermarket in the early years? Harry Hine unearthed a pile of old bottles with his grader not so long ago. The museum has one of the bottles embossed with the owner's name, 'Cohn's Cordials.' Afterwards the cordial factory was sold and moved to a farm a mile east of town belonging to Owen McMahon, where water for cordials was condensed from the nearby lake. A large pile of wood ash still marks the spot where the factory and water condenser stood. The property is now in the hands of the Wesley family. Cordial was popular for disguising the bland taste of condensed water. Getting back to Isador Cohn, he was a mover and shaker in the early years, being part owner of the Club Hotel, as well as five shops situated where the present Supermarket stands. Not long after the five shops were finished, a local wag defaced the sign 'Cohn's Buildings' with paint, leading to a reward being offered to nab the culprit. It was the first case of graffiti in town. However the hotel and the shops were built with adobe bricks (mud and straw) and were condemned 15 years later, being rebuilt in conventional brick during 1905. Cohn was a 'warm' supporter of the Forrest government, securing all bar one of the lucrative mail contracts in the newly found eastern goldfield. He also secured several hotel licenses. In addition he owned Cobb and Co stage line to Coolgardie, the coach starting from outside the Club Hotel. Cohn was a good town man, serving on both the Council and Road Board, as well as being a Justice of the Peace. Although he made a lot of money, he lost it all through poor investments. He died bankrupt.

IMAGINE ZERO DEATHS AND SERIOUS INJURIES, THEN ASK...

How Can I Reduce KSIs?

Killed or serious injuries (KSIs) are road crashes that result in death or life-changing injuries. Federal, State and Local Governments are working hard to eliminate KSI crashes: while understanding that people will always make mistakes, we can all do something to improve road safety.

Distraction

Distracted drivers are at a serious risk on our roads. If you glance away from the road in front of you when driving for just two seconds at 60km/h, you're effectively driving blind for 33 metres. Even worse, at 100km/h, you miss 55 metres of road.

Mobile phones, activity along the street, children in the back seat, adjusting vehicle or radio settings or eating a snack can all cause a driver to be distracted from their most important task – driving safely.¹

In regional WA, because of the distances travelled, remote locations and fewer vehicles on the road, a crash could easily become a serious injury or fatal crash before help arrives.

Take Steps to Prevent Driver Fatigue

If you're heading away, make sure you get a good sleep the night before your trip, take a break from driving at least every two hours – swap drivers, stop for a walk or a power nap, or enjoy a coffee for the driver at a Coffee Stop or Driver Reviver location.

Watch out for the fatigue warning signs – blinking a lot or squinting, yawning or having trouble keeping your head up, closing your eyes for a moment or losing focus, wandering thoughts, missing a road sign or braking too late, drifting over the centre line or on to the side of the road or seeing 'mirages' ahead.

Pulse oximeter

What you need to know!

- Are you non-Aboriginal and over 65?
- Are you Aboriginal and over 50?
- Are you pregnant?

If you answered YES to any of the above – collect a free pulse oximeter from the Southern Cross CRC today!

What is a pulse oximeter?

It is a small, peg-like device that clips onto your fingertip to read your heart rate and blood oxygen level. It takes only one minute to work, is reusable and can be shared between other people in your household.

Why do I need one?

If you become COVID-19 positive, you may need to be remotely monitored through the WA COVID Care at Home program. By having a pulse oximeter already in your home, a health professional can assess you and provide health advice from the comfort of your home.

Visit WA COVID Care at Home for more information.

Where do I get one?

Visit the CRC to collect a free pulse oximeter for you and your household (each eligible household can receive one pulse oximeter but supplies are limited).

Do not pick up a pulse oximeter if you are already COVID-19 positive. If you have already received a positive COVID-19 test result, the Department of Health will contact you and provide further information.

Visit COVID-19 \(coronavirus\) \(healthywa.wa.gov.au\) for more information.
