Thank you / Bereavement

The Yilgarn History Museum would like to send their heartfelt condolences to the family of Robert Southall in his recent passing.

Over the last three years Rob would ensure the Museum outside sheds and paved areas were kept in a clean and tidy state, and most of this was completed as his way of volunteering to the Museum. We want to thank him for all his work over these past years, it was much appreciated.

He will be greatly missed.

ECO-DYE WORKSHOP WITH KATHRYN SMITH

Eco-dye is the process of using nature to create beautiful prints on fabric and paper, and using resins and leaves to dye fabrics. It is a gentle process for the earth, where nothing is toxic, and the materials can be composted afterwards. I discovered natural dyeing about 6 years ago in my practice, and it is totally addictive! I especially love the unbundling process, and people's faces, and excitement at seeing what they have created.

I love to use recycled fabrics, and clothes, which is in keeping with my slow fashion ethos I hope that everyone who attends the workshop will get some great eco dye prints and beautifully dyed fabrics, and everyone has a great time, with lots of laughter and perhaps new friendships

Pioneers of Yilgarn

Stage 1.

Citizens who built this district between years 1887 and 1914

Egan, Tom: Came to Yilgarn in the 1890's cutting wood for the mines. In 1901 he built the Karalee hotel where he remained for some years. In his spare time he prospected for gold and cut wood for No 7 pump. He leased out the pub but remained in the area. In 1934 he was fortunate in being tipped off about a gold find nearby, the lease that Egan pegged becoming the main lease at Mount Palmer. He subsequently sold out. Over the years Tom had tried his hand at wood cutting, pubs, prospecting, distilling oil from eucalyptus leaves, and running goats. In his twilight he moved to Kalgoorlie and died aged 96. This loveable larrikin can be termed a true pioneer of Yilgarn and the Karalee area in particular.
